Graduate Student Researcher Policy

I. Definition

A Graduate Student Researcher (GSR) is a registered UC graduate student who performs research in a GGSE academic department or research unit under the direction of a faculty member or Principal Investigator. GSRs are selected for high achievement and promise as creative scholars; they may collaborate in the publication of research results as determined by supervising faculty members. GSRs shall not be assigned teaching, administrative, or general assistance duties.

II. Appointment Criteria

Appointment to the GSR in title requires the following:

1. the appointee is a registered UC graduate student;
2. the work performed may contribute to the educational objectives of the student; and/or
3. the student functions as an active collaborator and/or fundamental contributor to the intellectual content of the research.

The following specifies appointments to the various GSR steps when hired on grants managed within the GGSE Contracts & Grants Office:

Although atypical, some projects funded via the GGSE Research Office involve interdisciplinary grants with other campus departments that have a GSR policy that hire students at the Step V and higher levels. To maintain equity in such circumstances, GGSE GSRs will be paid at the same level as other-department GSRs hired on the same contract or grant, but not lower than the Steps I-IV stated in the GGSE GSR policy.

All other exceptions require prior approval from Dean, Gevirtz Graduate School of Education.

This policy will take effect for all new contract and grants submitted after January 1, 2016.
