Dr. Robby Nadler
Writing Workshop on Theoretical Frameworks and Literature Reviews
Wednesday, February 6
12 pm - 12:50 pm, ED 4205
In this workshop for Dept of Education graduate students, we will learn about theoretical frameworks and literature reviews by: 1) Defining their function, 2) Discussing strategies to help write them, and 3) Reviewing examples that illustrate how and when they succeed. Lunch will be provided, so please RSVP for planning purposes to rmesa@education.ucsb.edu by 2/1.

Dr. Jacqueline Mauro
Causal Inference for Constrained Optimal Treatments
Wednesday, February 6
12:30 pm - 2 pm, ED 1205
The Quantitative Methods in Social Sciences (QMSS) colloquium. Mauro is a Postdoc Scholar, UC Berkeley School of Information.

America to Me (episodes 1 & 2)
Wednesday, February 6
6 pm, MCC Theater
The first 2 episodes of this unscripted documentary series presents an exclusive look into an academic year at suburban Chicago’s Oak Park and River Forest High Schools. Students, teachers, and administrators from one of the country’s highest performing and diverse public schools are profiled in the face of decades-old racial and educational inequities. The series delves into the experiences of the racially diverse student population, sparking conversations about what has and has not succeeded in the quest to achieve racial equity and overcome bias in education. Followed by a panel discussion.

Sign Up Deadline for UCSB’s Grad Slam
Friday, February 1
The campus-wide, competitive 2019 Grad Slam begins April 8. See gradpost.ucsb.edu/grad-slam/2019 for details. Over $15,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded on the campus level.

Koegel Autism Center
Keeping Your Cool: Coping Skills for Children, Parents, & Teens
Tuesday, February 5
6:30 pm - 8 pm
SB Public Library
This monthly Autism Seminar & Discussion series—a collaboration between the Koegel Autism Center and the Santa Barbara Public Library—features three doctoral candidates: Shereen Cohen, Elizabeth McGarry, and Emily Ferguson.

TEP Applications for 2019 Due
Friday, February 1
Teacher Education Program applications for the 2019-20 academic year are due. See https://education.ucsb.edu/tep/prospective-students/how-apply for details.

American to Me (episodes 1 & 2)
Wednesday, February 6
6 pm, MCC Theater
The first 2 episodes of this unscripted documentary series presents an exclusive look into an academic year at suburban Chicago’s Oak Park and River Forest High Schools. Students, teachers, and administrators from one of the country’s highest performing and diverse public schools are profiled in the face of decades-old racial and educational inequities. The series delves into the experiences of the racially diverse student population, sparking conversations about what has and has not succeeded in the quest to achieve racial equity and overcome bias in education. Followed by a panel discussion.

CCSP
Candidate Interview Day
Friday, January 25
8 am - 4:30 pm, all around the ED Bldg
CCSP conducts interviews and provides panels and campus tours for prospective students for 2019.

Sign Up Deadline for CCSP’s Grad Slam
Friday, February 1
The last day for grad students to sign up to take part in the CCSP Grad Slam that will take place on April 2. Each CCSP Grad Slam participant will have 3 minutes to present a project, practice, or idea. The CCSP Grad Slam is a non-competitive event that allows our graduate students to share their incredible work with the rest of the CCSP community. Sign up to participate by emailing your name and presentation title to George Yatchisin: george@education.ucsb.edu

TEP Applications for 2019 Due
Friday, February 1
Teacher Education Program applications for the 2019-20 academic year are due. See https://education.ucsb.edu/tep/prospective-students/how-apply for details.

Koegel Autism Center
Keeping Your Cool: Coping Skills for Children, Parents, & Teens
Tuesday, February 5
6:30 pm - 8 pm
SB Public Library
This monthly Autism Seminar & Discussion series—a collaboration between the Koegel Autism Center and the Santa Barbara Public Library—features three doctoral candidates: Shereen Cohen, Elizabeth McGarry, and Emily Ferguson.

Dr. Robby Nadler
Writing Workshop on Theoretical Frameworks and Literature Reviews
Wednesday, February 6
12 pm - 12:50 pm, ED 4205
In this workshop for Dept of Education graduate students, we will learn about theoretical frameworks and literature reviews by: 1) Defining their function, 2) Discussing strategies to help write them, and 3) Reviewing examples that illustrate how and when they succeed. Lunch will be provided, so please RSVP for planning purposes to rmesa@education.ucsb.edu by 2/1.

Dr. Jacqueline Mauro
Causal Inference for Constrained Optimal Treatments
Wednesday, February 6
12:30 pm - 2 pm, ED 1205
The Quantitative Methods in Social Sciences (QMSS) colloquium. Mauro is a Postdoc Scholar, UC Berkeley School of Information.

America to Me (episodes 1 & 2)
Wednesday, February 6
6 pm, MCC Theater
The first 2 episodes of this unscripted documentary series presents an exclusive look into an academic year at suburban Chicago’s Oak Park and River Forest High Schools. Students, teachers, and administrators from one of the country’s highest performing and diverse public schools are profiled in the face of decades-old racial and educational inequities. The series delves into the experiences of the racially diverse student population, sparking conversations about what has and has not succeeded in the quest to achieve racial equity and overcome bias in education. Followed by a panel discussion.

Sign Up Deadline for UCSB’s Grad Slam
Friday, February 1
The campus-wide, competitive 2019 Grad Slam begins April 8. See gradpost.ucsb.edu/grad-slam/2019 for details. Over $15,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded on the campus level.

TEP Applications for 2019 Due
Friday, February 1
Teacher Education Program applications for the 2019-20 academic year are due. See https://education.ucsb.edu/tep/prospective-students/how-apply for details.

Koegel Autism Center
Keeping Your Cool: Coping Skills for Children, Parents, & Teens
Tuesday, February 5
6:30 pm - 8 pm
SB Public Library
This monthly Autism Seminar & Discussion series—a collaboration between the Koegel Autism Center and the Santa Barbara Public Library—features three doctoral candidates: Shereen Cohen, Elizabeth McGarry, and Emily Ferguson.

Dr. Robby Nadler
Writing Workshop on Theoretical Frameworks and Literature Reviews
Wednesday, February 6
12 pm - 12:50 pm, ED 4205
In this workshop for Dept of Education graduate students, we will learn about theoretical frameworks and literature reviews by: 1) Defining their function, 2) Discussing strategies to help write them, and 3) Reviewing examples that illustrate how and when they succeed. Lunch will be provided, so please RSVP for planning purposes to rmesa@education.ucsb.edu by 2/1.

Dr. Jacqueline Mauro
Causal Inference for Constrained Optimal Treatments
Wednesday, February 6
12:30 pm - 2 pm, ED 1205
The Quantitative Methods in Social Sciences (QMSS) colloquium. Mauro is a Postdoc Scholar, UC Berkeley School of Information.

America to Me (episodes 1 & 2)
Wednesday, February 6
6 pm, MCC Theater
The first 2 episodes of this unscripted documentary series presents an exclusive look into an academic year at suburban Chicago’s Oak Park and River Forest High Schools. Students, teachers, and administrators from one of the country’s highest performing and diverse public schools are profiled in the face of decades-old racial and educational inequities. The series delves into the experiences of the racially diverse student population, sparking conversations about what has and has not succeeded in the quest to achieve racial equity and overcome bias in education. Followed by a panel discussion.